

Released and Available Now

Arctic Tern Publishing has released
A Tree for Antarctica by VJ Michaux

Will expert pilot Dal Riley succeed, survive - and make a difference?

Dal Riley is a decorated climate rescue pilot about to marry his sweetheart Ana, when he quits his job to take on a desperate mission planned by an old man who has outlived his allowed years but is hanging on to life. The Mission: to save Antarctica from exploitation while trying to reduce the dangerously high CO2 in earth's atmosphere. Ruthless Black Coats and an unexpected disaster throw his team into chaos, while putting his life and marriage to Ana in extreme peril. The twists and turns in this futuristic thriller will keep readers wondering until the very last page!

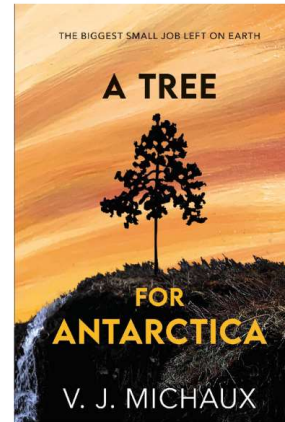

A Tree for Antarctica grabs hold from the first page and does not let go! Action starts in Chile, moves to South Carolina and high Canada, before plunging to the tip of South America and – you guessed it – ANTARCTICA!

Praise for A Tree for Antarctica

"With gripping pace and unforgettable characters, A Tree for Antarctica propels us into humanity's fight to survive a future world of global climate change. V. J. Michaux has written a triumphant novel embracing the humanity of The Grapes of Wrath and the scientific precision of Silent Spring. Destined to be celebrated for its prescience." - Scott Pelley, "CBS 60 Minutes" correspondent and author of Truth Worth Telling.

"V. J. Michaux has created a spine-chilling novel, supporting her picture of the future with well-researched facts within a five-star narrative. A Tree for Antarctica is an enthralling page-turner. I consider this book one of the most important to be written recently on the subject of preserving the world we live in. As important a message as Silent Spring." —Alfred Balm, conservationist, author of eight novels.

"V. J. Michaux mixes fictionalized characters impacted by and trying to mitigate the state of the world produced by advanced climate change with scientifically realistic scenarios, creating both an enjoyable and informative read." —Dr. Paul Andrew Mayewski, author of over 500 scientific articles and two scientific books.

ISBN: 978-0578893440
272 pages

Paperback, Climate Thriller,
$16.00
Suggested retail

Distributed by
Arctic Tern Publishing

About the Author

VJ Michaux is an author, speaker, explorer, and expert on climate change. After twenty years of research and extreme travel all over the globe, this is her first novel. She is a member of the Explorers Club and Al Gore's Climate Reality Project since its early years, and has given talks to thousands of adults and school children in the USA and Mexico about climate and about her own expeditions. Ginny and her husband Dick live in Vail, CO and part-time in Washington, DC. For more information see her bio at website listed below.

Contact Information: VJ Michaux, 10332 Main Street, #358, Fairfax, VA 22030

Email - Ginny5024@gmail.com

Phone - 970-401-3071

www.atreeforantarctica.com | www.vjmichaux.com | Facebook: vj.michaux | Twitter: @VJ\_Michaux